

Somewhere deep within there is a firmer, simpler, warmer human being.

This human being trusts this human being accepts both the limits that give a human dignity, and the talents that the world awaits.

*Somewhere deep within
there is a purpose that cannot be shaken, a love that no longer fears, and a wisdom that ennobles life.*

*This human being is both the instrument,
and the profound expression of life.*
